

I think that subscription based satellite radio providers should be free to broadcast whatever types of programming their customer's want. I can understand how the fcc might want to place restrictions on free over the air broadcasts that anyone can pick up, but If I am paying for satellite radio, it should not have the same kinds of restrictions. Premium services should not be restricted just because there are similar services available for free.